

Want to make some HISTORY at your next meeting?

If you're like most meeting organizers, your job this year is to make your event one that they'll remember for a long time, while still getting your message across. Why gamble? Look to the historical record to see the sure-fire way to ignite the passion and commitment of everyone at your next gathering! When you bring award-winning speaker Dr. Jack Bacon to your microphone...

Your meeting will literally surge with optimism, humor, passion, and most of all, vision.

From Iceland to New Zealand, Tokyo to Tyuratam, and Monterrey to Moscow, audiences the world over are getting his message and loving it!

This worldwide motivator and authority on technological progress shows your people how they can make history for themselves, achieving the goals you require!

Learn from a gifted and exuberant teacher who can de-mystify even the most puzzling parts of the modern world (and, of course, the future). Experience the joy of understanding what it's like to work on the inside of history-making projects in:

- ◆ Thermonuclear fusion
- ◆ The International Space Station
- ◆ Industrial Engineering & CAD/CAM
- ◆ Globalization & International Cooperation
- ◆ Artificial intelligence
- ◆ The Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award

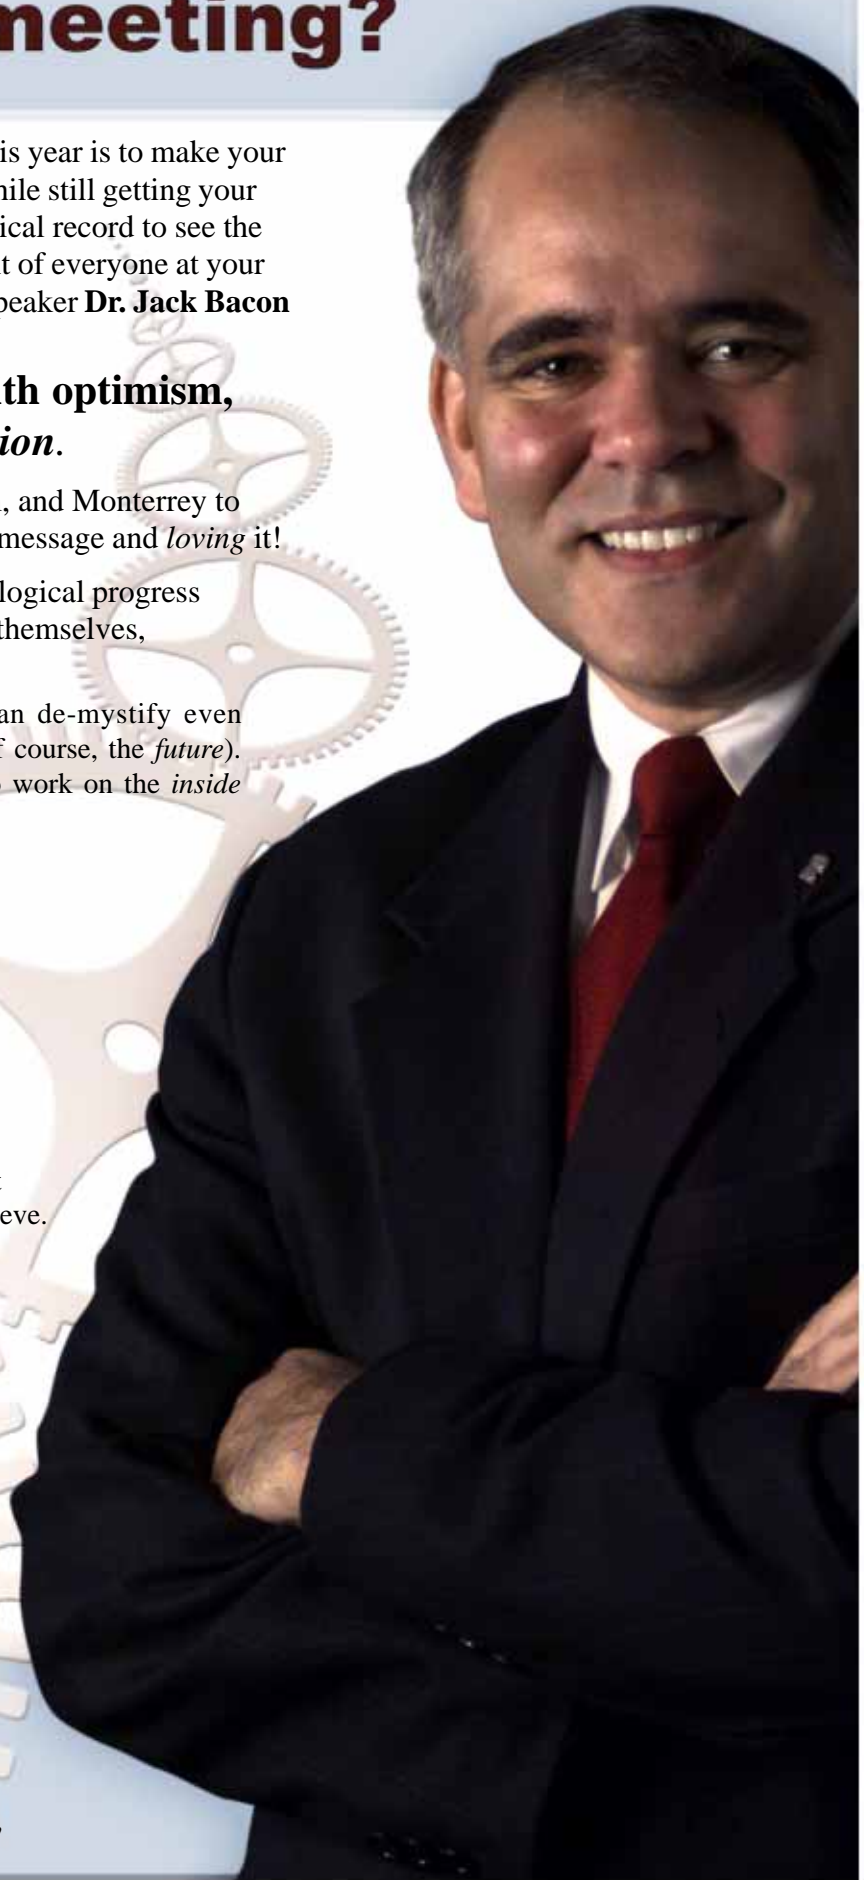

and how you can benefit from this experience!

You will learn from the historic events and projects that have forever changed what people believe they can achieve. Where does your organization fit into the future? Jack Bacon knows, and he can tell your people how they can make their mark in history!

Jack has been on the inside of mankind's most significant achievements in the past 50 years. With a perspective of future trends gleaned from his worldwide projects, historical research, and extensive travels, Jack tops it all with an exhilarating presentation style and astounding sense of vision which launches you towards your place in history!
